[redacted] 25X1X

1. Between 16 November and 4 December 1953, comparatively little air activity was conducted by swept-back jet aircraft at Neubrandenburg-Trollenhagen airfield. Up to six MiG-15 or U-MiG-15s were observed at the field. In detail , the following observations were made:

16 November. Two MiG-15 or U-MiG-15s made local flights shortly before 5 p.m.

17 November. One MiG-15 or U-MiG-15 towing a sleeve target was repeatedly observed over the Tollense lake. The sleeve target was attacked by swept-back jet aircraft.

24 November. Aircraft practiced the attacking of sleeve targets.

25 November. At 9:30 a.m., one MiG-15 was observed aloft. Between 1:50 p.m. and 2 p.m., two swept-back jet aircraft including one towing a sleeve target were seen aloft.

1 December. A MiG-15 or U-MiG-15 was observed landing.

4 December. At 2:30 p.m., two swept-back jet aircraft were seen aloft. One of the aircraft towed a sleeve target.

25X1 [redacted] Comment. It is believed that Neubrandenburg airfield is occupied by a fighter regiment. According to a previous report, 600 kg of bread were daily delivered to the field after 1 September 1953. [redacted] The present report indicates that 400 kg of rye-bread and an unidentified quantity of wheat bread daily arrived at the field. Provided that the daily winter ration amounts to 500 grams of rye-bread and 400 grams of wheat bread per person, it is assumed that about 500 men are stationed at the airfield.
